PRESS RELEASE – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OZPIPE 2024 ANNOUNCED

The Plastic Pipes Conference Association (PPCA) announces that OZPIPE 2024, its Spin-Off Conference event in Australasia, will be held in Sydney at the InterContinental 11 - 13 November 2024. Bearing the theme: Sustainable Infrastructure - The Future is Now, the conference is co-hosted by the PPCA and the Plastics Industry Pipe Association (PIPA) of Australia.

Zoran Davidovski, Co-Chair of the PPCA Organizing Committee comments: "Ceaseless innovation keeps the world of plastic pipes revolving at a fast and exciting pace - with immediate consequences for business and technology. Sustainability is key to everything we value and produce - from ideas to the factory floor and from supply to performance of our pipe systems during installation and through their entire service life and beyond."

"OZPIPE 2024 will also be a not to be missed global networking event and opportunity. Our human connections are as enduring as our pipeline connections. The conference will bring together the complete supply chain from manufacturers of resins, plastic pipes and fittings to machinery and equipment, specifiers, designers, suppliers and end-users."

Davidovski emphasizes that this two-day event follows on from the recent success of PPXXI Conference held in Orlando Florida in September 2023. Cindy Bray, Executive General Manager at PIPA is also a strong proponent of sharing technology and expertise within the industry.

"OZPIPE 2024 will showcase a range of technical papers presented by the best pipe experts from Australia and around the world, including papers presented at PPXXI," says Bray. "These presenters and their papers will highlight technical achievements and solutions for plastic pipe systems and identify valuable growth opportunities and trends within the industry."
